INSURANCE SERVICES

Why use an insurance broker?

There are so many different kinds of policies, each with its own premiums and limitations. It's easy to get confused and even end up with the wrong coverage.

If you're already working with an insurance agent, you may be reluctant to switch insurance carriers. But remember that the agent works for the insurance company, and although they are looking out for you (or at least you hope they are), their job is to keep you from switching to another carrier.

On the other hand, an insurance broker is someone who acts on your behalf. Once you contact a Miller Loughry Beach insurance advisor and let us know what you need, we will search and find the best policies for your consideration. No impersonal call center where you never talk to the same person twice. No voice-mail maze where messages are never returned.

We have access to dozens of carriers, and can quickly find several policies for you to consider. We know the industry, and the procedures and processes of the various companies that offer coverage, and can cut through the red tape and interpret the jargon found in most contracts. We can help you understand your policies, manage your risks and ensure there are no unexpected gaps in your coverage.

Miller Loughry Beach, a subsidiary of Pinnacle Financial Partners, provides a full range of insurance solutions, including personal, business and employee benefits, as part of the Pinnacle's comprehensive approach to wealth management.
